Information As a grower, packer and processor of prunes and walnuts, the Wilbur family is involved in all aspects of supply chain – from the farm to the supermarket shelf. Our philosophy has always been from our family to yours.

Wilbur Ranch and Packing Company is located in the heart of the world's prune and walnut growing region. Both the Columbia loam soil and temperate climate lend themselves to producing the highest quality prunes and walnuts.

The Wilbur family has always stayed close to its roots since our farm was established in 1869. Our long commitment to farming led to launching Wilbur Packing Company in 1992 to lend a farmer's perspective to food production.
